Invitation

The 2nd Choroideremia Patient Seminar
Friday 26-02-2016 (14h00) – Sunday 28-08-2016 (14h00)
Location: Wilhelm Kempf House 65207 Wiesbaden. The venue is directly within reach of Frankfurt Central Station.

What is the current state of research into, and development of a treatment of, choroideremia?

In 2016, the PRO RETINA workgroup will once again organise a seminar for choroideremia patients and people interested in the disease. The objective is to give an update on the research into new options regarding diagnosis and treatment.

Initial studies of a gene therapy have already been done worldwide. Gene therapy has already been applied in Germany.

We will also report on vision aids and counseling options. This is also an excellent opportunity to exchange experiences in dealing with the disease. Our speakers and moderators will be happily standing by to answer your questions and remarks.

Our speakers include:

Dr. Markus Preising, Justus Liebig University Gießen
Prof. Dr. Peter Charbel Issa University Hospital Bonn
Prof. Dr. Dominik Fischer University Eye Hospital Tübingen
Lars Wagenfeld University Eye Hospital Hamburg
Marius Adler Centre for regenerative therapy Dresden
Thomas Reichel Reichel Beratung

Questions for the speakers can also be presented to the seminar leadership in advance, in writing. The leadership will make sure your questions reach, and will be answered by, the appropriate speaker.

Attendance costs amount to 100 EUR for members of PRO RETINA
Non-members can book an attendance ticket by request
